PLAN OF ORGANIZATION OF THE CONSERVATIVE PEOPLE OF NORTH CAROLINA.

STATE ORGANIZATION.

A State Committee, to consist of a chairman and thirty members—six of whom shall reside in Raleigh and three in each judicial district—to be appointed by the State Convention.

The committee shall have power to maintain its organization by filling vacancies, &c., and shall take charge of all matters relating to organization, registrations, &c., and a proper canvass of the State.

DISTRICT ORGANIZATION.

The members of the State Committee in each judicial district shall constitute a district Committee for their respective districts and shall appoint a Chairman, and shall take charge of all matters relating to county organization, &c., in their respective districts; and shall report all matters relating thereto, to the Chairman of the State Committee.

COUNTY ORGANIZATION.

It is recommended that each County, by popular meetings or through the medium of existing organization, appoint a County Committee, to consist of at least two persons from each Captain's District within its limits.

The County Committee shall take charge of all matters of registration, local organization, &c., within the County, and is requested to make monthly reports to the Chairman of the District Committee, and when necessary, to inform him of such local matters as may require the attention of the District Committee.

It is further recommended that each County Committee cause to be enrolled the names of all the registered voters of their county, who are willing to act and vote with this organization—no man to be thus enrolled without his express consent; and, also, that they cause to be enrolled on a separate list the names of all those who are entitled to register, but who have not done so, and that they use every exertion to secure their registration and active co-operation.

PLATFORM.

The Conservative people of North Carolina, having by their delegates assembled in Convention at Raleigh, on the 5th of February, 1868, to consider the present anomalous condition of the State, and of the country, and to consult together upon the grievances which now afflict and threaten them, and the course of action proper to be adopted in the trying circumstances which surround them, do resolve and declare

1. Our unalterable devotion to the principles of Constitutional liberty, and our fealty to the government of the United States, as set forth in the Federal Constitution. That we sincerely and in good faith accept the legitimate and legal results of the late war, and do hereby reiterate our oft repeated declaration, that we most heartily desire peace and concord with our sister States, and with the entire people of the United States.

2. Resolved, That regarding the Constitution of the United States as the source of all power in the administration of the government, and that the powers of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial department are equal and co-ordinate, as defined by that instrument, we do respectfully and solemnly protest against the enforcement upon our people, of the Reconstruction Acts, and policy of Congress, as unconstitutional, unwise and destructive to society, and violative of that great principle of American politics, that each State shall have the exclusive control of its own internal offices.

3. Resolved, That it is the opinion of this Convention that the great and all absorbing issue, now soon to be presented to the people of the State, is negro suffrage and negro equality, if not supremacy, and whether hereafter in North Carolina and the South, the white man is to be placed politically and, as a consequence, socially, upon a footing of equality with the negro, and, in many localities, subject to his government as a superior. That we are utterly opposed to such change in our government and in our social relations, and that we do hereby earnestly recommend to the people of the State to manfully meet the issue now attempted to be forced upon them, and to use every proper measure within their power to avert the impending mischief.

4. Resolved, That while we are unalterably opposed to political and social equality with the black race, we yet have no unjust prejudicies against that race, that we are determined, by just laws, to protect them fully in all their civil rights, and to confer upon them all privileges which can be done consistently with the safety and welfare of both races.

5. Resolved, That the distressed and impoverished condition of our people earnestly demands the speediest and wisest measures of relief that the Legislature can devise.

6. Resolved, That this Convention recognizes, with feelings of gratitude, the heroic and patriotic efforts of the President of the United States, to restore the Union and harmony and good will among the American people.

7. Resolved, That this Convention regards the Supreme Court of the United States as the legitimate expounder in the last resort of the Constitution—and believe that its rights and powers, in that respect, should be preserved intact as established by law in the earlier and better days of the republic, and that any serious impairment thereof, by legislation or otherwise, will be destructive to the best interests of the country, and dangerous to the liberties of the people.

8. Resolved, That despairing of any restoration of the Southern States under the conduct of that organization which now controls the proceedings of Congress, waiving all former party feeling and prejudice, this Convention does most unhesitatingly recommend and invite the hearty co-operation of all the good people of North Carolina with the Democrats, and Conservative men of the North and West, who are now nobly struggling for the maintenance of the Constitution of the United States, and the restoration of the Southern States to their rights in the Union, on the solid foundation of harmony and peace.

9. Resolved, That this Convention elect four delegates and four alternates for the State at large, to represent the conservative people of North Carolina in the next Democratic National Convention, and that it recommend to the conservative people of the several Congressional Districts, to appoint delegates at an early day to represent them in said Convention.

10. Resolved, That when an election shall be ordered for the ratification of a new State Constitution, the Executive Committee for the State, hereafter to be appointed by this Convention, be instructed, if the time shall be sufficient to call a Convention of the Conservative people of the State, to put in nomination candidates for the various State offices whose election shall then be ordered, and if there shall not be sufficient time to call said Convention, to put in nomination sound Conservative men for said office.

The North Carolinian.

"Breathes there a man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said,
This is my own, my native land."

WM. A. HEARNE, JNO. W. DUNHAM,
EDITORS.

Raleigh, Wednesday, February 19, 1868.

THE Convention was engaged yesterday morning in discussion upon the reports from the committee on suffrage and eligibility to office. Our readers probably remember that there were four reports from the committee. The majority of the committee, composed of Messrs. Pool, C. C. Jones, Rich, Andrews, Benbow, and Harris and Cherry, negroes, recommended universal suffrage, coupled with universal amnesty.

Messrs. Congleton and Candler presented a minority report, disfranchising all persons disfranchised by the Howard Amendment and the reconstruction acts of Congress.

Messrs. Durham and Graham presented a second minority report, confining suffrage to the white men of the State, while Mr. French, of Chowan, offered a third, granting universal suffrage, but prohibiting "all persons who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof, until such disability be legally removed," from holding office.

Messrs. Pool, of Pasquotank, and French, of Chowan, were the principal speakers. The speech of the latter was, we understand, quite vindictive and proscriptive, abounding in harsh and uncharitable sentiments towards the white men of the State. The Convention has not yet come to a vote on the question, and it is probable that the discussion will be resumed to-day. One thing is certain, the constitution will contain a clause granting suffrage to the negro. There is no difference of opinion among the Radicals on that point. Upon the issue thus presented, the white men of North Carolina must prepare to defeat the constitution. If it contained no other provision open to criticism or objection, that alone should subject it and its authors to the condemnation of men, who value the fame or the interests of the State.

THE advocates of negro suffrage in the Southern States base that advocacy upon grounds which we deem untenable.—Among other reasons assigned for the perpetration of this outrage, they declare that the ballot is necessary to the protection of the civil rights guaranteed to the negro by the law, and that to deprive him of the privilege is to place him in the power of the whites, who they believe, or profess to believe, are anxious to deprive him of all right and liberty. The assumption is gratuitous and false, and the reasoning by which the conclusion is reached is entirely, if not wilfully fallacious. If as they contend the ballot be necessary to the protection of the civil rights of the negro, by what process of reasoning can they deny suffrage to females and minors? These latter hold property in many cases and are subject to the law. Their rights are as much jeoparded as are those of the negro, and they require precisely the same safeguards.

The truth is that the proposition is a slander upon the character of our people; an assertion that we would not deal justly with the negro, if he was excluded from participation in the government, but that we would introduce unjust and illegal discriminations in our legislation, and deprive him of the rights to which, as a member of society, he is entitled. Those who know the people of the South, know how false and malignant is the charge. They have been and are now the best friends of the race, and they would scorn, with all the earnestness of their natures, to adopt any law or plan by which his condition would be injured. The legislation had in the several States of the South, since the close of the war, demonstrates their willingness to give him every right necessary to his safety or welfare. They have none of that cowardly and contemptible spirit, which wantonly uses the power it may possess for the injury of an inferior.

"MACK," the Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, has had another interview with the President—this time discussing the position of General Grant before it was contemplated to make him the Radical nominee for President as compared with his position since the matter has assumed definite shape. In reply to a question as to whether the President understood Gen. Grant to be with him in his opposition to congressional reconstruction, Mr. Johnson said:

"Of course, I understood him to be with me all along, because I had his word for it." "He went down South, and came back more for me than I was for myself. He wrote a report that encouraged me more than anything else had done, to persevere in the effort to get the Southern States back in the Union, as I had started out. He called on me frequently for a long time after the controversy between me and Congress had commenced, and if he meant anything by what he said, he was a friend and supporter. He never talked politics very much, because Grant always pretended he didn't know anything about it; but he didn't seem to regard Reconstruction as a political question. He suddenly turned up as a Radical candidate for the Presidency, and that was the first I knew of his opposition to me."

The following extract from the correspondent's statement would place the General in rather an unfavorable light with Radicals, North and South, did they not deem his nomination essential to success:

"I called the President's attention to this subject—asked him if he remembered any such conversation with Grant, and if so, whether he remembered Grant's remark that this is a white man's government. He promptly replied that he did. He couldn't repeat Grant's words exactly but the substance of them was what I had stated and they were strongly against negro suffrage which, about that time, it was proposed to introduce into the District of Columbia. Among other things Grant said was that the negroes didn't know enough to vote, and that they would vote just as their employers wanted them to. He illustrated by saying that he had a number of negro servants in his house, and that to let them vote would be simply to give him (Grant) so many additional votes, for they would vote just as he told them. He was quite vehement at the time in his denunciations of the Radical policy of negro suffrage."

THE NIGGER WAKE AT THE CAPITOL.

(BY OUR SPECIAL REPORTER UNDER THE TABLE.)

[The reader is particularly requested to remember the fact that no Reporter for this paper is allowed on the floor, in the halls or in the galleries of the Convention, and consequently our reports are made from under the table, behind the scenes, or as may be otherwise ordered and convenient.]

THIRTIETH DAY.

"Still her old empire to restore she tries
For, born a Goddess, Dulness never dies."
[Pope's Dunciad.

10 O'CLOCK, A. M.,

The curtain rises; there in state,
Behold the things decreed by fate,
To reconstruct and mend our laws,
And advocate the Freedman's cause.
In dignity and grace there sit
Our men of wisdom and of wit;
Of every color and complexion,
From every quarter and direction;
Doctors, lawyers, barbers, preachers,
Banjo pickers and school teachers:
Mulattoes, whites, and pumpkin reds,
Kangaroos and kinkey heads.
Some from Maine, some bummer stock;
Some from Vermont and Plymouth Rock,
Some "true to the old manor born,"
Some of the kind of "Jim crack corn"
"I don't care how, so I got here
And gits my grub and milige clear.
No more hard work for poor ole Ned,
Eight dollars per diem and feather bed."
Stir up ye animiles, friend Cowles,
Yer quadrupeds and furrin owls.

Mr. Read—the man who didn't vote on the Militia bill the other day, presented the petition of Ned Shroyer, of Warren, praying to be released from marital obligations. Laid over.

Mr. King, of Lenoir, a costingent expense committee—man, reported in favor of allowing E. C. Bartlett per diem for a day's attendance on the Menagerie, and 200 miles of mileage.

ORDINANCES, RESOLUTIONS, ETC.

Mr. Morton, a resolution to repeal an act prohibiting the sale of alcoholic stimulants at Companys Shops. Referred.

On motion, the Bill of Rights was read for the third time.

Mr. Watts, weeping Watts, moved to insert after the word "pay," in section 6, 5th line, the words, "or authorized the collection of." Carried.

Mr. Durham moved to strike out all after the word "restrain," in section 20.

Mr. Abbott, of New Hampshire, wanted to know his reason for his amendment.

Mr. Durham replied that these were days of partisan strife, and if we leave the freedom of the press for the Legislature to decide how far it may be exercised, we put the matter exclusively in the hands of the party that happens to be in power. According to the section as it stood, partisans could prescribe precisely how far a paper opposed to them in politics should reflect upon their political acts and principles. [Vide expulsion of the Carolinian Reporter.]

He entered his earnest protest against anything like a censorship over the press being incorporated in the constitution. There was no precedent for it.

Messrs. Abbott and Rodman violently opposed the amendment.

Mr. Durham said that it is a common law right to protect one's character against libel; and what was the necessity to make a statutory right in this particular, when such a measure left the great bulwark of liberty—the freedom of the press—liable to be tampered with by partizans that held the reins of political power in their hands? This was another step in the march of Radical innovation and military despotism, which was fast sweeping from existence every time-honored landmark and custom that the true people of this State love and venerate. He was opposed to leaving a Legislature that would be swayed and controlled by party doctrines and prejudices, at liberty to prescribe what limit the press of the State should enjoy. If such a thing is incorporated in the constitution, the time will come when a free and full discussion, reflecting upon the acts of a party in power, will be denied to their opponents.

Mr. D. called for the yeas and nays. The call was sustained and the vote stood: yeas 24, nays 80.

In section 24, Mr. Durham moved to add the words, "and without representation in Congress."

Mr. Heaton, of Ohio, said that when this constitution was adopted, representation would be allowed us.

Mr. Durham said the people had paid taxes, without having such representation, and he wished the world to know that, though defenceless and unable to protect ourselves from this gross injustice, yet we protest against this outrage upon our liberties.

Mr. D. asked the yeas and nays, but they were refused.

The amendment was put to a vote and lost.

The section, as it stood, was adopted.

Mr. Abbott moved, as a substitute for the 20th section, the following: "That the privileges of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended." Carried.

Mr. Graham, of Orange, moved to amend section 24, by striking out the first paragraph, and inserting: "As a well regulated Militia is necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed upon."

Mr. G. said he did not care whether it was adopted or not, but he wished to express his sentiments, for he believed the right to keep, as well as to bear, arms, sacred, and should not be violated.

After some debate, a vote was taken and the amendment adopted.

Mr. Heaton moved that the bill be put on its final passage, and called for the yeas and nays.

The roll was called and resulted: yeas 87, and nays 20.

The following delegates voted in the negative, viz: Messrs. Baker, Bradley, Congleton, Dowd, Durham, Etheridge, Graham, of Orange, Hare, Hodnett, Lennon, Long, Marler, McCubbins, Merritt, Murphy, Sanderlin, Taylor, Turner, Welker and Williams, of Sampson.

SPECIAL ORDER—SUFFRAGE.

The majority reports, and the several minority reports accompanying it, were read.

C. C. Pool, of Pasquotank,

Where the bull-frogs jump from bank to bank—remarked that the committee had endeavored to meet Congressional demands in the matter, desiring, at the same time, not to transgress the provisions of the act itself. He expatiated heavily on the minority report of Messrs. Durham and Graham. He soared aloft to apostrophise the American (bald) eagle and made numerous original and affecting remarks about the "Ole flag," a la thus wise:

It is your country's flag, my boys,
So proudly waving o'er
The land of the free and the home of the brave.

[A smile from the Beaufort man.]

Mr. Pool didn't want to disfranchise everybody in North Carolina; [Right here the speaker looked at Holden, and Holden looked at the speaker.

"An old crow sat on a hick'ry limb,
He winked at me, and I winked at him,"] particularly those who were good Union men (at any time) during the late rebellion. He was firmly persuaded in his own mind, (not in ours,) that every male man born under the "old flag," or any naturalized man, had a divine right to the ballot and to office if he could get it.

He said that whenever women should rise in the majesty of their power and assert their inalienable right to vote, he would go his whole length to sustain their demand. [Mr. Pool stands just 4 feet, 10½ inches in his stockings—when he has on stockings.]

He thanked his stars and the great American Congress that the time had come when a colored "man and brother" could get justice before the law. He had heard much talk about property qualification, but he merely considered the thing a good "gosk." He thought that the great American Congress had displayed a generosity unparalleled in sparing the wicked traitors who had so well nigh succeeded in upsetting republican institutions. Here

The speaker brought such reasons
In his argument to back him,
And his words were so persuasive,
And his reasons so convincing, that there was "no use a talkin any more," so he quietly subsided in his seat and soon became "kam and screen."

Mr. French, of Washington city, then arose, not

"Like Venus just from the sea,"

but like

Pluto, the grizzly god,
Hot from Tartarus."

[We shall not attempt to report in full this wonderful speech—a French speech—the speech of this wonderful French-man—a sort of spouting sorcerer, all the way from his distant home, 'mid the purlieus of Washington city, where he parted with a "nearer and dearer one," and manfully submitted to other all but insufferable sacrifices, to come all the way down here to North Carolina on a French mission; to have the precious privilege of confronting promiscuous assemblages; enjoy the "right" of addressing specific lessons to "rebels," and be blest with the flattering consciousness of being born to set the world right generally.]

He warned the Konvenshun that they must not expect to be addressed by "lips touched with sacred fire!" He said there was disloyalty yet in the land, and that men, even now, hinted of another rebellion. Having given vent to a few trite moral sentiments, and numerous impertinent tropes of rhetoric, he then exclaimed in this wise:

"What! bust this ge-lorious Union up,
And go to drawin' triggers,
Just for a thunderin' passel of Emancipated niggers!
No, sir, gentlemen, it can never be done, for "The eagle of Ameriky
That flew across the seas,
And throwed the ber-luddy British lion
Kerslump on his knees, will preserve this great and ge-lorious country from premature dissolution.

Here our hero, thoroughly exhausted by his Demosthenean effort, sat down, and, on motion of Mr. Rodman, the performance closed until 7½ o'clock this evening.

General Sherman.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The report that Gen. Sherman has telegraphed from the West to his brother, Senator Sherman, that he wishes the Senate military committee to refuse to favor the nomination for Brevet General, and that if ordered to come to this city to assume command of the new military department he will resign rather than take the command, is probably incorrect, at least as to the tone and phraseology attributed to General Sherman in the alleged dispatch. Up to a late hour to-night the President had not received a word on the subject from Gen. Sherman, by telegram or otherwise, and it is not believed in official circles that the latter would place himself even in seeming antagonism with the President in such a matter, without communicating directly and at once with him.

The order making the Department of the Atlantic, or a department of some kind in keeping with the dignity of General Sherman's rank, and with the headquarters at Washington, was several weeks ago determined upon by the Executive, as also was the brevet generalship decided upon about the same time, and it was talked over between the President and Gen. Sherman on several occasions, the last being the day on which Gen. Sherman left for the West.

There was no indignation manifested by Gen. Sherman at the proposed compliment, nor any question raised about the legality of the proceedings. Gen. Sherman, in those conversations, did not refuse to accept either the brevet appointment or the command of the proposed new department, and the tenor of the alleged dispatch to his brother, if correctly reported, is at variance with the tone and temper evinced by the general in those interviews with the President.—Special dispatch to Baltimore Sun.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Upon inquiry in a properly informed quarter, I learn that the drift of Gen. Sherman's dispatch is that he wishes the Senate to reject his nomination as Brevet General; that he is opposed to the establishment of that rank as such, and that he does not wish to come to Washington to take command of a new military department. I do not think there is a threat of resignation.—Special dispatch to Baltimore Sun.

Tennessee.

MEETING OF THE CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION—ENDORSEMENT OF PRESIDENT JOHNSON'S ADMINISTRATION.

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 15.—The Conservative Convention met here to-night, and adopted resolutions looking to a thorough organization through out the State, warmly endorsing President Johnson's administration, and declaring that the Government was established to give protection to the political rights and material interests of the white race, and that it should be so administered. Resolutions were also adopted proposing a union with the Democratic party of the Union in opposition to the existing congressional despotism. In relation to the next Presidency, the following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, That Andrew Johnson is the choice of the Democratic and Conservative people of Tennessee for the Presidency of the United States in November next; that if selected he will receive their cordial and unanimous support; but they will, however, if some other good man, true to the constitution and to the rights and liberties of the people, be nominated by the National Democratic Convention, cheerfully acquiesce, and yield to him a hearty and enthusiastic support."

The Convention re-organized to-day on the basis proposed by Gen. Meade. There was much excitement amongst the delegates and lobbyists. Gen. Meade had a conference with the leaders of the majority and the minority, and proposed propositions of conciliation and harmony, which the majority immediately accepted. After a little hesitation the minority acceded thereto. The Presidents of both wings of the Convention resign; the four delegates declared by the majority ineligible take their seats, and four delegates declared eligible vacate; the majority is to decide all questions; the question of eligibility to be determined in full Convention. Col. Sprague, commanding the State, is to call the Convention to order under the new organization. Col. Sprague urged equal rights for all men and classes as the basis of the constitution. Forty-five members present to-day out of forty-six. Horatio Jenkins, late president of the majority, re-elected by a vote of 32 to 8. The standing rules and resolutions of the majority were adopted.

Gen. Meade and staff appeared in the hall after reorganization, and were introduced to the convention. Gen. Meade said that he was gratified that both sides had approached him in a spirit of liberality, and hoped harmonious action would ensue. A strict test vote in the convention now stands 30 to 15, if the four alleged ineligible members remain. The convention will take up the constitution thus far adopted by the majority and re-adopt it. The Conservative State Convention of Tennessee met at Nashville on Saturday last, and adopted resolutions in support of the President's policy, and declaring Mr. Johnson the choice of the Democratic and Conservative people of Tennessee for the next Presidency.

On Saturday, Judge Kelley presented, in the House of Representatives, a memorial from three thousand colored people in Mississippi, asking Congress to make an appropriation to carry them to Liberia.

General George B. McClellan has been offered, by President Johnson, the mission to England, as successor to Mr. Adams.

Mr. J. P. Benjamin, formerly Secretary of State in Mr. Davis's Cabinet, appeared for the prosecution in the case of the Queen vs. Sir G. E. Culling Eardly.

Hon. S. S. Marshall, present member of Congress from the Eleventh District of Illinois, is a candidate for renomination by the Democracy of that district.

IN MEMORIAM.—The Montgomery Mail offers the following inscription to be printed on the head-board of the grave of dead Radicalism in Alabama, with the hope that it may do some good:

IN MEMORY OF
RADICALISM IN ALABAMA,
Who died in attempting to give birth to a
BOGUS CONSTITUTION,
After a painful illness of five days.
She leaves a family of carpet-baggers and scalawags to mourn her loss.

CURIOSITIES OF A CONSTITUTION.—It seems a paradox to say that those persons who shout loudest for liberty are commonly the most illiberal; but the world abounds in proofs of the assertion. The telegraph brings fresh evidence from the State of Arkansas. The convention which has been incubating at Little Rock for a long time past has at last hatched out a constitution, which combines the extremes of freedom and tyranny to an extent hard to parallel in history. After giving the ballot to women and negroes, and making them competent for jury duty, it proceeds to declare how voting shall be done on the new constitution. Voters are required to swear that they have never given aid to secession in any State. This offers a premium to perjury, or shuts the door of repentance and reformation against those who have erred, and is of itself a monstrous instance of injustice. Not satisfied with this, the framers of the constitution clap a muzzle upon every man's mouth by requiring him to swear that he accepts for all time the social and political equality of the white and black races; not merely the "political," observe, but the "social!" But the essential despotism of this new constitution reaches the climax when, after insisting on all these questions for voting, it disfranchises all persons who shall vote against the new constitution. We match this against anything that can be found in the previous history of the world.—New York Journal of Commerce.

THAD. STEVENS ON CONGRESS AND IMPEACHMENT.—J. B. S., the Washington correspondent of the New York World, reports a long conversation had with Thad. Stevens on Thursday, after the defeat of impeachment in the reconstruction committee, part of which we extract in the following:

The correspondent asked Mr. Stevens the question, "Were you disappointed in the vote this morning by the committee?"

"Not a bit, sir; I know all the cowards in this Congress. Long experience has enabled me to black mark every one of them, d—n them!"

"What, then, is at last your opinion on the question whether Mr. Johnson will ever be impeached?"

"Sir," said Mr. Stevens, with a bitter smile, "I shall never bring up this question of impeachment again. I am not going to dally with that or any other committee in regard to it any longer."

STATE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The gentlemen composing the State Executive Committee, are respectfully requested to meet in this city on Friday, the 28th inst., at 11 o'clock. A full attendance is much desired.

By order of the CHAIRMAN.

A RALLYING OF WHITE MEN.

The White Men of the County of Wake assembled in the court house yesterday, for the purpose of organizing in accordance with the plan of organization adopted by the convention held in this city on the 5th and 6th instants. The meeting was well attended, and its proceedings were marked by the greatest unanimity.

On motion of Col. Jno. P. H. Russ, H. O. Parker, Esq., was called to the chair, and on motion of J. J. Litchford, Esq., Maj. Basil C. Manly was requested to act as Secretary.

At the requested of the Chairman Maj. Seaton Gales explained the object of the meeting in a brief but happy manner, and concluded by offering the following resolutions:

Resolved, That we hereby heartily approve of and endorse the Declaration of Principles set forth by the late Conservative Convention, and that we will devote our best energies to their maintenance.

Resolved, That the Chairman of this meeting, in compliance with the Plan of Organization recommended by that Convention, be requested to appoint a County Committee, to consist of two persons from each Ward in the City of Raleigh, and three persons from each Captain's District in the County, to take charge of all matters of registration and local organization.

Resolved, That this committee be earnestly requested to proceed promptly with the enrolment of all registered voters, who are willing to vote and act with our organization, and likewise of all who are opposed to it; and that the county canvassers be respectfully and urgently solicited to commence, at the earliest possible moment, a thorough and vigorous canvass, in the advocacy of the principles embodied in the resolutions of the late Convention.

Resolved, That a County Executive Committee of ten persons be appointed by the chairman of this meeting, whose duty it shall be to suggest a time for holding a district Convention for the nomination of a candidate for Congress, and a county convention for the nomination of candidates for the Legislature, if it shall be deemed advisable and expedient so to do.

On motion, the resolutions were unanimously adopted.

The Chairman was allowed time to appoint the committees provided for by the resolutions.

The business of the meeting being completed, repeated calls were made for Col. Russ, who, in response, made one of his most telling speeches, warning the people against the designs of the mongrels amongst them, and exhorting them to do their full duty in the coming contest.

The Hon. D. G. Fowle, in obedience to most flattering calls from the gentlemen composing the meeting, also addressed them in a powerful speech. His appeals to the white men of the country to stand bravely by their race, were enthusiastically received.

The meeting then adjourned.

Wake will do her whole duty in support of the principles of truth and justice in the campaign.

A GATHERING OF THE CLANS.

We invite the attention of the readers of the North Carolinian to a special telegram, in another column, giving an account of the ratification meeting held in Goldsboro yesterday. The meeting was a large and enthusiastic outpouring of the white men of gallant old Wayne, and the harmony manifested betokens the most auspicious results.

By a happy conjunction, the greeting of Wayne found the white men of Wake preparing for yeoman service in the struggle for the honor and the fame of the mother State.

Let the spirit which pervaded these meetings become general throughout the State and we will teach these scallawag and carpet-bag philosophers, that the white men of North Carolina are neither slaves nor cowards, and will control her destiny.

CITY AND STATE.

Turned Up.

For the last day or two we had missed Sweet, of Craven,

[As "nice a young man" as ever was seen,
And fit to dance with an African Queen.]

from his accustomed seat in the Menagerie, and we were just beginning to feel melancholic about his non-appearance,

Fearing, lest the lovely youngster
Might, perhaps, have been run over,
Might have fallen in a river,
Might, perhaps, have "got his neck broke;"
Might have "been and gone and done it,"
In some way we could not think of,

when we saw a paragraph in a Newbern paper, announcing the presence of the delectable "cuss" at a nigger pow-wow in that city, where he seemed superlatively happy over the incense burned on his moustache by the saddle-colored "damsuels" of the dance.

But that's all right,—for, "sweets to Sweet," saith Ophelia, and Shakespeare knows, you know.

"Leap Year Wooing."

At the close of the "Readings" in Tucker Hall, on Monday evening, Mr. Macrae suggested to the ladies that now was the time to provide themselves with good husbands. There are lots of them who want "worser halves"—old bachelors whose hearts are as tender as a sucking dove's, but whose modesty—bashfulness, rather, has kept them from bending the knee at the shrine of the fickle god. Pitch into them, ladies, and fight them on the matrimonial line if it takes all the year, and submit to no terms but unconditional surrender.

Commissioners Meeting.

The Board of Commissioners held a special meeting at the Mayor's office last evening, to elect an Assistant Chief of Police, and a Clerk.—Mr. M. B. Barbee, who was elected to the former position at the meeting held on Saturday night, refused to take the test oath required by military orders, and hence the vacancy. Mr. Peyton Williams was chosen for the place.

Mr. Jordan Womble, Jr., who was elected city clerk, on Saturday, having declined the position of city Clerk, for the same reason as that given by Mr. Barbee for his declination, Mr. J. J. Christophers was reinstated.

Mayor's Court.

The following cases were before his honor, W. D. HAYWOOD, on yesterday:

J. T. Williamson, charged with disorderly conduct on Wilmington street. Fined $10.

Ben. King, charged with assaulting N. C. Hill. Fined $5.

Hawkins Bowen, Fannie Bowen and Emma Holt, arrested by the night police for disorderly conduct. Lodged in the guard-house and released according to law.

Francis Black, James Scusom, Wm. Russell, John Morrow, William Dawson, U. S. soldiers, arrested by the night police. Lodged in the guard-house, and turned over to the military guard by order of Lieut. C. Cornell, Co. B, 8th U. S. Infantry.

Charley Pratt, Co. I, U. S. Cavalry. Lodged in the guard-house for intoxication on Hargett street on Sunday. Turned over to the military authorities.

A Suggestion.

In view of the great scarcity of provisions throughout the State, we would most respectfully submit to the careful consideration of His Majesty, King Canby, whether it would not be wise to disperse "ye animiles" of the Menagerie to their respective homes in time for the ensuing planting season, and thereby add one hundred able-bodied and experienced field hands to the productive force of the country.

The Convention Yesterday.

The doings of the Congoes yesterday were of no practical importance. The day was consumed by the speeches of Messrs. Pool and French. Our readers will find full and accurate reports of these able and elaborate efforts in our account of the proceedings. The speeches of the gentlemen deserve transmission to "de archives of gravity." They wove around a severe chain of logic the most beautiful flowers of rhetoric.

Gratuitous Outrage

The City Council of Newbern have appointed a nigger named Amos Brown on the police of that town. Thus do these Radical interlopers, because they have bayonets to back them, continue to insult and outrage the feelings of our Southern white people.

A Rule of Health.

We announce for the benefit of J. Q. A. Bryan the red-haired delegate from Wilkes, and other mountain Konvenshuners, that in eating raw oysters, the shells should always be peeled off before swallowing. The shells are very indigestible, and are apt to lie hard on the stomach of a kangaroo. "Nuff ced."

EMIGRATION.—The Charlotte Courier learns that the Rev. L. M. Berry, of Lincolnton, a prominent Baptist minister, will leave "in a few days for a tour of inspection through the Southern borders of Brazil, with a view of selecting locations for many of his friends as well as his own family."

The disposition to emigrate is constantly growing among our people, owing, doubtless, to the unsettled and unhappy condition of the country politically. We would prefer to see them elect to remain and join in the effort her true sons are making to disenthrall the good Old North State. Nevertheless, if they must or will go, we wish them all possible success in the new homes they may choose.

Gov. Worth has issued letters patent to the Mecklenburg Mechanical Association of Charlotte. The company is engaged in the manufacture of the North State Washing Machine, invented, we believe, by a gentleman residing in Charlotte. The machine is most highly recommended by those who have used it.

We learn from the Western Democrat that the iron bridge over the Catawba river, on the Western division of the Wilmington, Charlotte & Rutherford Railroad, was finished last week.

ROSADALIS WILL CURE THE WORST CASES OF SCROFULA. READ THE STATEMENT BELOW, AND DESPAIR NOT.

WILSON COUNTY, Sept. 10, 1867.

DR. J. J. LAWRENCE:

Dear Sir—My youngest daughter, aged five years, has been dreadfully afflicted with Scrofula nearly all her life. I tried a great many Physicians, but without relieving her much; in fact, most of them said there was no hope of cure.—During the last Spring she was worse than ever, her body and limbs being covered with sores and blotches—with face and eyes badly ulcerated and swollen. Whilst in this condition, I was advised by Dr. L. A. Stith to try your Rosadalis. I at once procured three bottles, and commenced giving it to her. The effect was magical. In less than a month, to my great astonishment, she was entirely well.

I am, sir,
Yours, with respect and gratitude,
W. W. BURNETT.

ROSADALIS CURES ALL SKIN DISEASES.

WILSON, N. C., Sept. 15, 1867.

DR. LAWRENCE—Dear Sir:—In 1862 my son, now aged five years, was vaccinnated with what proved to be impure matter, which completely destroyed his health. He has been afflicted with an inveterate and extremely troublesome Eruption of the Skin, sometimes breaking out in sores, &c. Rosadalis was prescribed by my family physician—Dr. A. D. Moore. After taking it a few weeks, my son became and remains entirely well.
Yours truly,
J. B. DANIEL.

I know of several others in this County, cured through the use of the Rosadalis, and it can be found in nearly every house in my neighborhood, and they all praise it as a great medicine.

The Tempest.

Of this sweet old ballad of the Tempest, by Fields, one can never weary. There is something in the little daughter's whisper above all human philosophy:

We were crowded in the cabin,
Not a soul would dare to sleep—
It was midnight on the waters,
And a storm was on the deep.

'Tis a fearful thing in winter
To be shattered in the blast,
And to hear the rattling trumpet
Thunder, "cut away the mast!"

So we shuddered there in silence—
For the stoutest held his breath,
While the hungry sea was roaring,
And the breakers talked with Death.

And thus we sat in darkness,
Each one busy in his prayers—
"We are lost!" the captain shouted,
As he staggered down the stairs.

But his little daughter whisper'd,
As she took his icy hand,
"Isn't God upon the ocean,
Just the same as on the land?"

Then he kissid the little maiden,
And we spoke in better cheer,
And we anchor'd safe in harbor
When the morn was shining clear.

Profits of Pear Culture.

Considerable attention has been directed of late years to fruit culture in the State, but that most generally favored has been the peach. It would seem from the testimony of a very successful cultivator of the pear that this delicious fruit can be made a source of equal if not greater profit than even the peach, and therefore recommend to our farmers the perusal of the following extracts from his statement. It is from the pen of Mr. P. F. Quinn, of Newark, New Jersey, and appears in the Working Farmer, for February:

"When choice pears command from $10 to $20 per barrel, as they have for the last three years, and this with a brisk market, it affords encouragement enough to cause horticulturists to make every effort to produce the best specimens of the varieties that the market calls for. When the trees are ten years old the receipts should not be less than $200 per acre, and there will be a steady increase in the returns, under proper management, until the trees are full grown, when the receipts will be at least $400 per acre, and in many cases much larger.

In our orchard we have a large number of trees planted at different times over a period of seventeen years. Our early planting consists of great many varieties, the largest portion of which were removed or worked over with other varieties. Year after year this was repeated, until we reduced our number from fifty to eight sorts for market purposes. The largest number of trees of any one variety in our orchard is the Duchess d'Angouleme, which variety, with us, with a few exceptions, has produced annual crops of fruit.

To give an account of the sales of fruit from our entire orchard would be unsatisfactory, on account of the difference of ages of the trees, varying, as they do, from two to seventeen years.

Nine years ago I selected a single row of thirty Duchess d'Angouleme trees, planted ten feet apart in the row. Since then I have kept an accurate account of the total sales of pears from these thirty trees. They are now seventeen years old, and have produced seven crops in eight years. The trees are at present looking very well, and if we can judge from appearances they will continue to be productive for many years. They were originally, dwarfs, but I am quite confident they are changed to standards, and this is true of the majority of our Duchess d'Angouleme trees. The following is the amount of each year's sales:

The first crop, the trees 8 years old,	$120 00
Second crop,	139 41
Third crop,	156 17
Fourth crop,	201 28
Fifth crop,	267 49
Sixth crop,	310 20
Seventh crop,	705 00
Total,	$1,899 55

'The row last year produced ninety-four bushels of marketable fruit, which sold for $705.—There was a scarcity of peaches last year, and pears, in consequence, brought higher prices than usual. I will, in this connection, state that this row is the best in our orchard, and no other of an equal number of trees has yielded as abundantly; nor do I give these figures as a guide or criterion in pear culture. From practical experience I am thoroughly convinced that pear culture can be made to pay a large profit, and is a safe investment, where the requirements are complied with. We have made pear culture profitable, although we have met with, during our apprenticeship, many serious reverses; but instead of being discouraged by these drawbacks, they incited extra efforts on our part.'

Civility is a Fortune.

Civility is a fortune itself, for a courteous man always succeeds well in life, and that when persons of ability sometimes fail. The famous Duke of Marlborough is a case in point. It was said of him by one contemporary, that his agreeable manners often converted an enemy into a friend; and by another, that it was more pleasing to be denied a favor by his grace, than to receive one from any other man. The gracious manner of Charles James Fox preserved him from dislike, that even at a time when he was, politically, the most unpopular man in the kingdom. The world's history is full of such examples of success obtained by civility. The experience of every man furnishes, if we recall the past, frequent instances where conciliatory manners have made the fortunes of physicians, lawyers, divines, politicians, merchants, and indeed, individuals of all pursuits. To men, civility is what beauty is to women—it is a general passport to favor—a letter of introduction, written in language that every one understands.

Amusing Very.

Dr. Sambones having finished amputation of a leg of one of his patients, a near relative of the latter took him aside and said to him:

"Doctor, do you think that your patient will recover?"

"Recover! there has never been the least shadow of a hope for him."

"Then what was the use of making him suffer?"

"Why, my dear fellow, you could not say brutally to a sick man: You are dying. He must be amused a little!"

Sheridan was once staying at the house of an elderly maiden lady, in the country, who wanted more of his company than he was willing to give. Proposing one day to take a stroll with him, he excused himself on account of the inclemency of the weather. Shortly afterward she met him sneaking out alone. "So, Mr. Sheridan," said she, "it has cleared up." "Just a little, ma'm—enough for one, but not enough for two."

Two sailors were sitting in the gunwale of their ship drinking grog. "This is meat and drink," said Jack, and he fell overboard while he was drinking. "Now you have got washing and lodging," coolly remarked Tom.

An Irish waiter at a hotel, ordered by a weary traveller to bring a larger bootjack than the one in the house, advised the broad footed guest to go further and use the fork in the road, just beyond.

40 YEARS.

DEEMS' Southern Hepatic Pills, are made and sold by the discoverer, that old and well-tried remedy for all diseases caused by DISEASED LIVER, which is attended with all the symptoms of Consumptions. In 1825 the Discoverer was reduced to a mere skeleton, and was pronounced by three of the most skillful physicians of one of our largest cities, to be in an advanced stage of Consumption, and beyond cure. He then began to try experiments on himself, and after many efforts discovered (by the help of an Indian) the remedy which wrought in him a perfect cure. He is now in the 78th year of his age, and at this advanced stage of life retains an excellent constitution. In 32 years itinerating in the ministry, he has seen more than a thousand persons, who were given up to die of Consumption as beyond cure, dragging out a miserable existence, not knowing what ailed them, they were cured by these Hepatic Pill, and afterwards enjoyed the most perfect health.

There is in these Pills a peculiar combination with an article which has probably never before been used as a medicine. They are highly strengthening, and mild in their action on the bowels. In the preparation of these very superior and excellent Pills, no cost or trouble is spared to insure the greatest possible degree of perfection, in point of utility, excellence and comfort; the advantage in these Pills, therefore, is that a cure must be radical and complete, without the necessity of incorporating such drugs into our Pills as to break down the system in one part to remove the disease in another, and leave the patient to groan under worse diseases than heretotore. Where these Pills are known, especially in the Southern States, where they have been used so extensively, they need no recommendation, their merits are so well known by their results, which has given them a reputation that has brought them into great demand. They are therefore destined to be, at no distant day, the only remedy recognized and used by the people where billious diseases are so prevalent.

They can be sent to any point in the United States by mail or express.

Price:—25 cents per box, $3 50 per doz. By the gross, $18. The cash must either accompany the order for the Medicine, or it will be sent C. O. D. Address

LATEST NEWS TO THE FARMERS OF North Carolina.

Your attention is called to my large stock of Agricultural Implements, Iron Steel, &c., &c.

Corn and Cotton Planters, Corn Shellers, Hay, Shuck and Corn Stalk Cutters, Fan Mills, Plows, of every kind, Harrows and Cultivators, Spades, Shovels Forks, Brier Hooks, Iron Axles, Springs, Cart & Wagon Boxes, &c.

I call particular attention to BILLUP'S CENTREBOARD COTTON SCRAPER, and to BILLUP'S DIXIE PLOW. The first is warranted to be the best Scraper ever yet invented, and the Farmers are requested to test its merits in connection with any other kind. The Dixie Plow is freer from choking than any other yet made; will pass through the ground with less power, and do better work than any other kind. This is no vain boast. 'Tis easy to claim superiority; hence I ask a trial.

If Farmers are not satisfied, the money will be refunded.
